by Alessandra Mattanza

Blue water and warm, which fades in shades of light blue more intense. White sand beaches, soft and white as sugar. Exuma, District of British tradition of the Bahamas, is a beautiful utopia, which consists of 360 small islands, called "cays". Here is all the most exclusive and special and poor population, such as luxury resort (where you often rent villas instead of rooms, of original membership of billionaires), the wild nature with all the comforts, the low tax regime for foreigners, have led many stars to consecrate as their refuge, away from the crowd, where "escape" during breaks from work. And some of them, such as Johnny Depp, Nicholas Cage, David Copperfield, Eddie Murphy, and even the 'Aga Khan have even bought an island. Also, what wins is the people: solar, generous, always friendly, with beautiful black girls as beautiful as models. And the weather: sun, only a few light rain, throughout the year. The largest of the islands is Great Exuma, where there is also the town George Town, with some coffee, restaurant and local, but has kept all its authenticity meta Caribbean At World. Agrees to rent a car and explore the historical sites of the island: the old prison of slaves, hideouts for pirates and a bridge connects with the wildest, to Little Exuma, where even passing the Tropic of Cancer. Do not miss a sea trip and a "safari" among all the island's natural attractions: first of all the pigs in the bay, very sociable, with which you can swim; the iguana, which on another island, are left to feed; the most spectacular beaches, lonely and isolated, with coral reefs that overlook the ocean. Specialists tickets for a tour, as for snorkelling and diving, or fishing, are Exuma Watersports, with the style of "007", known for its adventures class. There are small local hotels and only a couple of rooms ultra-luxury, home to the stars, as business people or groups of corporate executives and financiers who delight in playing golf. Among these, Grand Isle Resort & Spa, a truly unique and special. Located overlooking the sea on the beach at Emerald Bay, with villas (sometimes also with special prices during the winter) and infinity pool. The bar and restaurant, The Palapa Grill, where you often live music, are frequented even by many local celebrities. "Free of children" is the close and elegant Sandals, more style "chain". Huge yachts are parked in the marina. On Sundays you must go (there is a boat-taxi that connects to Georgetown for a few dollars) to the island stoking Island, where you cook the pork roast according to tradition at the little bar caribbean Chat N 'Chill in a party that involves many boats, some houseboat and many yachts that gather in the transparent waters off.
